SANTA MONICA, Calif. — Sep. 09, 2002 — After 30 years as Chief Engineer at some of the nation's top studios, Bruce Maddocks has launched Cups 'N Strings, a full service Santa Monica recording center -- featuring surround mixing, mastering, post-production, and high speed delivery via T1 lines and ISDN.

Control Room with Sony DMX-R100

Maddocks' new studio is located in the Media Ventures entertainment complex, creative center of Academy Award-winning composer Hans Zimmer. Combining cutting-edge digital technology with vintage analog gear, Cups 'N Strings offers a critical listening environment and the tools for high performance audio delivery. The studio is available with Maddocks at the board, or as technical guarantor of projects booked.
