CUPS 'N STRINGS ALLIGNS WITH DNS

Cups 'N Strings Studios has relocated to a newly expanded facility designed to accommodate growth and diversification. At its new location in Santa Monica, the studio will continue as a full-service recording center that features voiceovers, surround mixing, mastering, post-production, as well as restoration and archiving to a variety of analog and digital formats. Adjacent within the new facility is DNS Digital Post, which has formed a strategic alliance with Cups 'N Strings. Pictured is DNS owner Doug Nolan (Left) and Cups 'N Strings owner Bruce Maddocks.
