

MIX[®]

Professional Audio and Music Production

MIXLINE

Sabrina Buchanek Joins Cups 'N Strings

Mar 3, 2006

Sabrina Buchanek has joined Cups 'N Strings Studios in Santa Monica, Calif. as re-recording mixer and sound editor. Buchanek is known in the world of film and television post-production for her mastery of sound, having worked on feature films such as Species and The Fantastiks and television specials such as Inside Look: Down From the Mountain, Run for Cover and Dial H for Hitchcock.

In television series such as The Crusaders and For Better or For Worse she handled all aspects of post-production sound, including editing, sound design and mixing music, dialog and effects. As a music recording engineer and mixer proficient with analog as well as the latest digital technology, she has worked with Fleetwood Mac, Robert Palmer, Missing Persons and Jimmy Jam and Terry Lewis, among numerous others.

Buchanek is a graduate of Indiana University with a degree in Recording and Audio Reinforcement. She is also the recipient of Promax Muse Gold and Silver Awards, Aurora Platinum and Gold Awards, Omni Silver and Bronze, and AXIEM Silver Awards for her work on promos and trailers including Hannibal, Gone in 60 Seconds, Ace Ventura Pet Detective and X-Men.

For more information, visit www.cupsnstrings.com.

Pictured at Cups 'N Strings Studios is Sabrina Buchanek.