By Guy Wright

Renowned actor/director Dennis Hopper has added his distinctive voice to the Navtones growing list of celebrities providing exclusive voice content for GPS navigation systems. Navtones downloadable self-installed content allows users of vehicle and personal navigation systems to choose from a variety of real celebrity voices by which their audible turn-by-turn directions are delivered. This new content, and the voices of other celebrities such as Burt Reynolds, will be available worldwide by the end of the year at Navtones.com and participating e-tailers.

Hopper recorded all of his Navtones material in one marathon session day at Cups 'N Strings studios, which specializes in post-production mixing, mastering, and voiceovers in such growth markets as DVD bonus commentaries

. The project was engineered by Cups 'N Strings staff engineer Grant Johnson.
