

Aug/Sept 2005!

Studio Spotlight

Studio Spotlight

Cups 'N Strings Expands Restoration and Archiving Division

What do Steely Dan, REM, and Nirvana have in common? Selections from their catalogues were transferred to digital and audio archived by Cups' N Strings.

To accommodate an ever-increasing demand for high-quality transfer and archiving of analog assets, Cups 'N Strings Studios recently acquired additional vintage tape machines, including machinery to accommodate motion picture and television sound transfer. To view equipment recently added and clients click here.

Assets are recorded to the Pro Tools HD-3 or Nuendo digital formats for storage and future uses.

Take an express tour of Cups' N Strings Studios with studioexpresso and learn more about Santa Monica's best multi-purpose recording center

Maddocks with (from L-R) an Otari MX-5050 2-track-1/4-track recorder; Otari MTR-12 4-track / 2-track recorder; Pro Tools HD-3 rig; Ampex ATR-102 2-track recorder; Otari MTR-90 MK3 8-16-24-track recorder; Otari MTR-90 MK 2 8-16-24-track recorder. Photo by David Goggin.